Craig is a UK-based American voice actor and audiobook narrator. Born in the USA and made in the UK, his quirky, clever, conversational voice has been used by major brands, eLearning developers, game producers and audiobook publishers around the world.

He grew-up in US and has lived most of his adult life in the UK with extended periods in France, Germany, Italy, Poland and Spain. After starting life as a classically-trained singer, dancer and actor, he pursued a career in business and spent the next 25 years working as a management consultant in the international financial markets, before 'coming home' to acting via voiceover and audiobook narration.

Craig maintains a professional studio at his home in Kent, South East England. When he's not in his studio, you'll find him wandering the English Countryside, mis-directing tourists in his 'Slightly-British, Mildly-American', Mid-Atlantic or Trans-Atlantic accent.

Recent clients include: Sky Sports, Avanade Consulting, De Kuyper Brands, Delaware Consulting, Credit Suisse, BRC Global Standards, Findaway Voices, CAPCOM Games, IBM, Smith's Medical, Journalstone Publishing, Moosehead Breweries, Marriott Hotels, National Geographic, CloudPay, Audible Studios, Millstream Productions, Replay Publishing, DHL, Finnish National Agency for Education, Sealed-Air Food Care, SureTech Brands, Inc / DuckBrands, Gamesys, WAVIN Products, MindFramers, Inc, Antikythera Technologies, Northern Light Productions, Hodder & Stoughton Publishing, 2nd Empire Media Publishing, XFINITY Comcast, China Unicom, Philadelphia Visitors Channel, THQ Nordic Games and Lilith Games.
